

The Life and Music of Ludwig van Beethoven as Performed by Wolfgang Wortberg, Pianist, Narrator

Wolfgang Wortberg returns from Europe to treat us to a repeat performance in his unique style of delivery. His previous performance of Chopin was enthusiastically received by local and international audiences alike.

"More than a concert. Wolfgang brings the audience into the life and mind of Beethoven. Like an intimate 19th century salon, he offers readings from and about Beethoven to compliment his exquisite playing."

What others have said about Mr. Wortberg's performance...

"...technical brilliance..."

"...sincerity and directness..."

"...no ego or affectation to get in the way..."

Presented by the Seattle Branch
The Anthroposophical Society in America
Saturday, October 20, 2007
7 PM Social, 7:30 PM Concert
Seattle Waldorf School, Huckleberry Hall
2728 NE 100th St., Seattle, WA
Donation: $15 adult, $12 children 6th grade and older contact: 206-517-4917 or branch@seattleanthroposophy.org
Proceeds in excess of expenses will benefit the labyrinth project at
The Rudolf Steiner Bookstore in Seattle.

In the Artist's Words...

In my study and during my performances, I desire to reveal the essence of the musical thought, to bring the emotional content to its fullest expression.

My ideal for a concert is a shared experience of a true "communion of the heart, a union of souls" through music. When this happens, there are no words to describe its blessing.